Kleen Car announces special “KIT” pricing on many Optimum products Holiday Gift sale!

New Milford, NJ. – November 27, 2007 - Its Holiday season and what better way to shop for that detailer on your list than to give him or her the BEST car care products available. And to incorporate Holiday savings as well is an added bonus! We hope you have heard of the Optimum product line and all the great products within the line are designed to make you vehicle look showroom new. At Kleen car, we work with and have partnered with Optimum products to produce one of the finest product lines available.

We would like you to try some of these buffing products and see for yourself. We have put together a special “kit” of our buffing products. Included in this kit is everything you need to make your vehicle look showroom new. We have included the Optimum compound, polish, Poli-seal, spray wax, 2 plush micro fiber towels, and, as an added bonus, our Buffing with confidence DVD to help you buff your car to perfection. Our video alone is a $50 value and is included in the kit. If purchased separately, all these great products would retail for a cost of $135 including shipping. We want you to try these products and we will know you will be hooked once you try them, but we are still offering the kit at the discounted price of $54.95 and FREE shipping.

This is a great opportunity to view our great video and learn many things about buffing. If you were thinking of purchasing our video alone, it is about the same price including shipping as our kit. We wanted to cover all the bases and we invite you to take this holiday opportunity to try all these great products and hopefully use the Optimum line on a regular basis. So if you are a professional looking to produce better looking vehicles in a shorter amount of time, and were thinking about trying our products, or even purchasing our video, this is the perfect opportunity. We also invite you to purchase this kit for the detailer on your holiday shopping list. We know they will love it!

We also have many other detailing kits available at reduced pricing.

Kleen Car is your #1 resource for Optimum products!

We are able to offer the lowest prices because of our close relationship with Optimum.
